Module assessment

3 minutes

Module assessment passed

Great job! You passed the module assessment.

Score: 100%

Check your knowledge

1. Which of these statements accurately defines AI information extraction?

- Using SQL code to query a database.
- Copying files from cloud storage to local disks.
- Analyzing unstructured content to identify and extract relevant fields and values. ✓ Correct

2. How is OCR used in the information extraction process?

- Online Content Retrieval (OCR) is used to copy cloud data to a local device for processing.
- Optical character recognition (OCR) is used to convert images of text into machine-readable text data. ✓ Correct
- Open Conversion Routine (OCR) is a method for converting JSON data into images.

3. How does generative AI enhance the data extraction process?

- By using semantic language models to accurately match extracted values to data fields. ✓ Correct
- By manually coding extraction rules for each document type.
- By generating new documents from scratch.

Next unit: Summary

< Previous Next >